Based on the United States’ Motion for Alternative Service on John Wadsworth and to Extend Time for Service (“Motion”),¹ the whereabouts of John Wadsworth are unknown and could not (and cannot) be ascertained through reasonable diligence. There is also good cause to believe that Mr. Wadsworth is avoiding service. Service by alternative means is appropriate under the circumstances. And service of summons and the United States’ counterclaims² by email sent to John Wadsworth’s known email address, and by email sent to Mr. Wadsworth’s counsel is reasonably calculated, under all the circumstances, to apprise Mr. Wadsworth of the action. Therefore, for good cause appearing,

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that the United States' Motion³ is GRANTED. The United States may serve John Wadsworth, individually and as Trustee for the RBT Victim Recovery Trust, by email service to him personally at johnwadsworth@gmail.com, and by email service to Mr. Wadsworth's attorney, J. Thomas Beckett, at TBeckett@parsonsbehle.com.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the United States' deadline to serve John Wadsworth is extended to December 9, 2022.

Signed October 27, 2022.
